

Application Information for International (Undergraduate) Students of Minjiang University in 2023

Introduction to Minjiang University

Minjiang University is based in Fuzhou, the capital city of Fujian Province. In 2002, with the approval from the Ministry of Education, Minjiang University began to offer full-time bachelor's degree programs. Minjiang University is an amalgamation of Fuzhou Teachers' College, established in 1958, and Minjiang Vocational College, established in 1984 (including Fuzhou Academy of Arts and Design merged in 2001).

Minjiang University has a glorious past. President Xi Jinping once served as the President of Minjiang Vocational University for 6 years (June 1990 - May 1996) when he took the position as the Secretary of the CPC Fuzhou Municipal Committee. During his tenure, he propounded the philosophy of "seeking to be the best instead of the biggest, and to adapt to the needs of society" and the principles of building a locally based and market-oriented institution with a focus on quality and practicability of education, which have now guided Minjiang University to determine orientations, make plans and decisions, overcome difficulties and take practice actions for its reform and development.

After more than 60 years of development, Minjiang University has grown into an influential application-oriented university with a complete disciplines and satisfactory education quality. It has 16 colleges that offer MBA program and 61 bachelor's degree programs in all the eight major disciplines, covering economics, law, liberal arts, history, science, engineering, management and art.

Minjiang University currently enrolls 16,000 full-time students, with a faculty of more than 1,000, among which 42% hold a doctorate degree.

Minjiang University has a total area of 2,294.6 mu(1.53 km²), with 561,500 m² of building area. The University owns 516 million yuan's worth of equipment for teaching and research, 2.0438 million paper-based books and 1.9583 million e-books.

Minjiang University insists on running in an open-up way. Minajing University establishes friendly cooperation with more than 40 universities in the United States, Japan, Australia, Canada and other countries; works with European University Cyprus to establish the International Digital Economy College of Minjiang University, a Sino-foreign cooperative institution.
